FOREWORD

Deland Senior High School annually welcomes the largest and consequently the most diverse student body in all of Volusia County. It is these people for whom this book is compiled, these people whose triumphs and joys, struggles and heartaches, accomplishments and achievements are captured here forever from cover to cover. As the students, faculty and staff are the integral workings of the school, and without them there would be only hallowed, empty halls, there is conceivably no better subject on which to FOCUS.

Deland Senior High School has consistently placed much emphasis on the academic achievements of its students. Yet coinciding with the scholastic atmosphere is the necessary environment of good clean fun. When school work seems to become excessive and overbearing, DHS students find their outlets elsewhere. Through reading, playing, practicing or being with friends, they are able to keep positive attitudes toward daily life.

The Lighter Side of DHS

During the three years most students spend at DHS, meaningful friendships and relationships are formed. People with different heritages, backgrounds, and upbringings find common interests both in and outside of school. Often the acquaintances made here are carried on to college and beyond, even if only in the form of memories. The high school years are priceless and irreplaceable, a one of a kind experience in all our lives.

Ty Harris, Allison Willis, and Darin Bostic attempt a few rounds of mud wrestling. Sarah Bostic, Tim Glomb, and Kim Harman gawk at a soccer centerfold. Lauri Koshoff and Laurel Usher head home after classes. Kesia Earl and Vicki Williams gossip while eating lunch.

Forming Friendships Anew

DHS welcomes a variety of students with unique personalities and characteristics. Their diversity adds flavor to the campus, and their ideas and actions help form a school that is unparalleled by any other. From the classroom to extracurricular activities, DHS students express their individuality and dedication.

All Eyes Are Upon Us

Many students find tacit pleasure in spending time alone. Taking a break from the fast lane, they find solitude serves as valuable experience in their personal development. What they know and perceive as individuals and as members of the community make for well-rounded characters.

The Style Is All Our Own

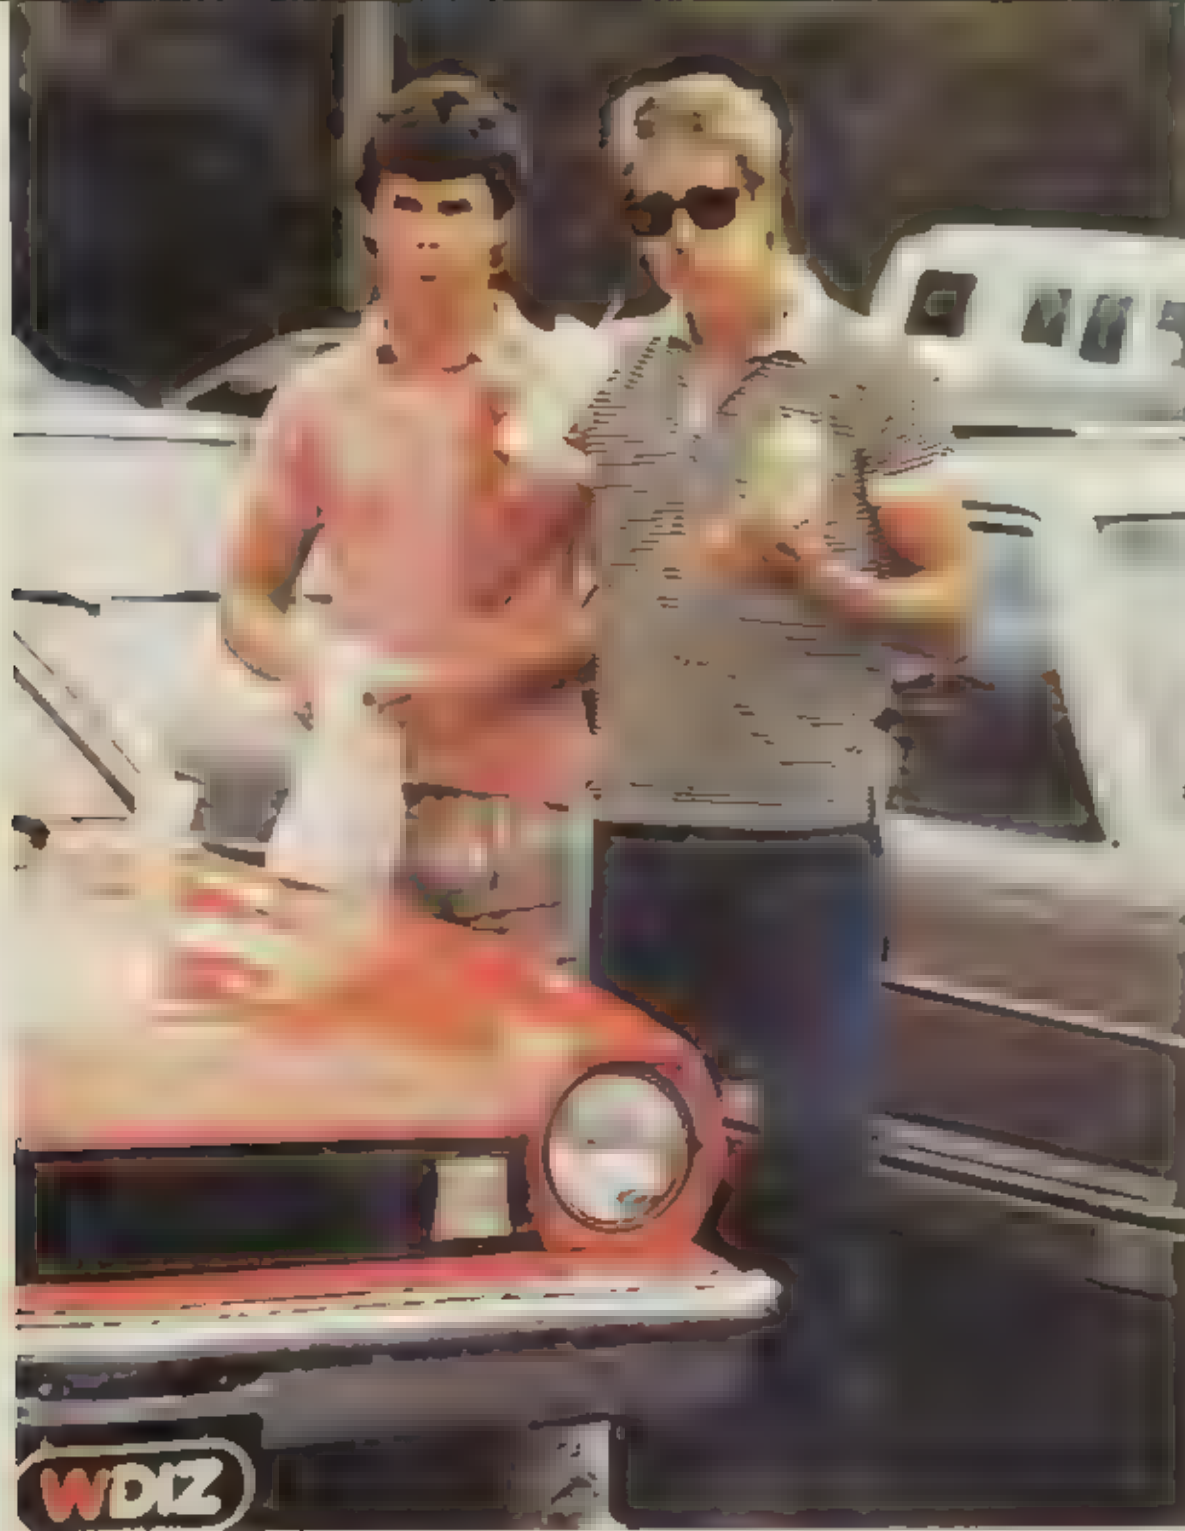

As the saying goes, when you want something done right, you do it yourself. Hence, DHS students shouldered both the responsibility and merited the glory for the success of student life. A re-kindled school spirit accounted for the elimination of much apathy and dabbled the air with self-esteem and confidence. A winning football season and freshly maintained grounds added to the jovial surroundings.

We Make It Happen

A plethora of students were involved in numerous campus activities. By faithfully participating in shows, sporting events, and fund raisers, they radiated pride in their school. Their dedication and spunk enhanced the charisma with which they performed. This special interest in the school made for a better year at DHS

The Pride Is in the Air

In each DHS student's years of classes, surprises have inevitably entered into the picture. These dramatic changes in the pace made school a more enjoyable experience, while helping to relieve the student of unnecessary pressures. Unexpected trips, happenings, and outcomes varied the procedure of those unremitting school days.

Peewee Lindsey and Warren Franklin express their approval of the arrival of lunch. Because of a heavy course load, Katrina Dickson resorts to a large bag to transport her books. Nancy Poore and date enjoy a slow dance at the prom. Virginia Bendzy flashes a toothy grin as she pauses in the hall.

The Many Facets of DHS

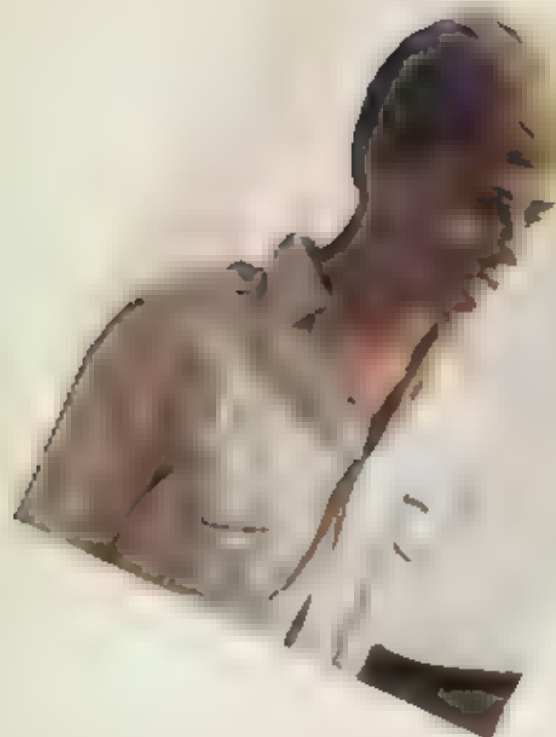

Trying new adventures and unprecedented experiences enhanced DHSers' lives, and led them to important discoveries and commitments. Extending themselves to face whatever came their way became a trait indicative of the students. All of this combined formed a truly unique atmosphere for learning, socializing, and having fun.

Deland High School started the year with much ill publicity. This commenced with the Daytona Beach News Journal publishing a list of all of the bad things which had happened at DHS during the last five years. DHS has been given far more media time covering its negative aspects than it has been given promoting its commendable qualities. Many other schools had problems similar to those at DHS. However, they received far less publicity. Because of this poor representation, many people strived for a better image. This spirit sparked a pride in the school which aroused enough interest to create several changes, some of which were well received, and others which needed revamping.

One of the major achievements of the year was the addition of Judgment Day. On this day, which was in the middle of each nine weeks, students were required to carry around a form to each of their teachers in order for it to be signed with their grades. The form was then to be taken home and returned with the signature of a parent or guardian. Another landmark came in the area of parking. A new junior parking lot was constructed, while the senior and staff facilities were redone. With the construction, also came stiffer parking regulations. Students wishing to park in the senior lot, which was the only lot unwatched by the deans at lunchtime, were required to purchase red senior stickers. In order to do so, one was required to have proof of being a senior, a driver's license, and a valid regular parking sticker. Regardless of these rules, many underclassmen still wound up at McDonald's. Along with these changes came many awards, making DHS well on its way to becoming a meritorious school.

From the first vacuum tube monsters to today's microchip minis, computers have been on the move. Recently the administrative staff of DHS obtained a computer system. This new system assisted the guidance department in their battle to unravel the snarls caused by the commencement of school. Although the system aided the administration, it decreased the freedom of many students. This was due to the fact that any administrator could view student records at the simple touch of a button. Conversely if a small system such as the one in existence at DHS can minutely scrutinize a student's records, a large computerized company could feasibly discover every traffic violation, felony, or civil crime committed by an employee. As DHS swung into the mainstream of computerization, it joined the growing macrocosm of computer technology.

POPULAR STYLES

The times said that anything goes, and anything went. During the year, many clothing items were popular with the general public. However, many opted for their own "look," instead of the mainstream styles. Much of this may have been brought upon by the unusual vogue of recording artist Cyndi Lauper. Peer pressure became less of a reason for one's dress, and labels were used less as status symbols and more as a place for the size. Skirt lengths which supposedly fluctuate with the economy, were of no particular measurement. Maxis and minis were both utilized. Although much fashion was unique decision, many new looks did become widely recognized.

Forenza-type sweaters were a big hit at DHS, with quite a large portion of the student body wearing them in one form or another. These sweaters were large and loose-fitting, and went well with the shorter, cropped look, in pants. Neon fashion also scored well on the public forum. This was a fad which "started at the bottom and worked its way up." Bright colored socks and other accessories, such as the new wide belts, appeared first. Later came almost anything making its appearance in a fluorescent shade. Other popular trends at DHS included the introduction of Guess jeans, and the continuation of the old "surfer" looks.

FASHION

Esprit sportswear became quite popular with DHS students. Neon socks were only part of the collection of fluorescent clothes. Surfing clothes included bright printed shirts and clamdiggers.

SUMMARY

With one of the greatest card flashing tricks ever seen, the American athletes and those of 139 other countries, not including the Soviet Union and 26 other boycotting nations, were welcomed to Los Angeles for the games of the XXIIIrd Olympiad. The granddaughter of the great Jesse Owens, Gina Hemphill, carried the Olympic torch into the L.A. Coliseum, which was renovated for the event and handed it off to the 1960 decathlon winner, Rafer Johnson. He then proceeded to light the large torch which was to burn throughout the two weeks of competition, high above the stadium.

Expected to do quite well in the games, the United States started a rally of gold medals which was not to end until the record number of 83 was reached. The swimming competition was the first American stronghold, in which six Olympic, and 5 world records were broken.

The miracles of '84 were the two American gymnastics teams. The men's team captured the gold from the Chinese in team competition and won several gold, silver, and bronze medals in the individual events. The women's team came away with a silver in the team competition, and America's gymnast sweetheart, Mary Lou Retton, received a perfect ten in the vault at a most crucial point in order to capture the all around title.

The track and field events were again strong points for the United States, along with the skilled boxing of the US athletes.

JEFF BLATNICK, "HAPPY DUDE", of the U.S. Greco-Roman wrestling team, which specializes in only upper-body wrestling, came away with a gold medal in the 100+ kilograms division. While being interviewed after the match, he cried out exactly what he felt, "I'm a happy dude." Blatnick was a "happy dude" because he had won a war with Hodgkin's disease a few years earlier. After battling his way to recovery, he had won the one thing which he had dreamed about, an Olympic gold medal.

CARL LEWIS may be considered the perfect Jesse Owens reincarnated. Lewis competed in the same four events that Owens had in the 1936

The Olympics closed in Los Angeles on August 11th with a huge firework display

Berlin games. He received gold medals in the 100 m, the long jump, broke an olympic record in the 200 m, and ran the anchor leg in an olympic record-breaking performance in the 4 x 100 relay.

Perhaps the one person who stole everyone's heart at the LA games was 16-year-old MARY LOU RETTON. She achieved the title of the best female gymnast in the 84 games when she won the all around competition. It was not an easy battle for the top honor. Mary Lou was in the lead at first, then the Romanian Ecaterina Szabo closed in and tied the score. Later Szabo regained the lead from Retton, but Retton's strongest events were yet to come: the floor exercise and the vault. Retton scored a 10 on the floor exercise and needed a 10 in the vault to take the lead, and she nailed it!

In later competition, Mary Lou won a silver medal in the vault, a bronze in the uneven bars, and a bronze in the floor exercise.

GREG LOUGANIS was the United States diver who took both the men's three meter springboard and the men's 10 meter platform titles. Louganis scored an easy victory in the former competition, but he accomplished quite a feat in the latter.

In the 10 meter platform event, Greg scored over 700 points which was once the world record, making the new record 710.91. His coach, Ron O'Brien, said, "if Greg had more events, then he would have won more golds."

ATHLETES FLORIDA

The Olympics did not end after the closing ceremonies in Los Angeles. After the games, the American athletes went on a four-city tour of the United States.

First, they went to Washington, D.C., where they were in a parade through the city, and met Ronald Reagan for an official congratulation.

Their second public appearance was in a ticker tape parade down Broadway in New York City. Two and a half million people lined the streets along the chosen route.

The third stop was in Orlando, Florida. The parade only lasted 15 minutes, but that did not keep hundreds of thousands of Central Floridians from coming over to see the U.S. athletes. As they passed in convertibles and trolleys, the spectators held up red, white, and blue cards which gave the athletes a perfect score of 10, (the cards were furnished by the Orlando Sentinel and 7-Eleven). After the parade, the athletes went to Disney World where they spent two or so hours just having fun.

CONCERTS

They were the prophets of our time, and we flocked to hear them sing. The power of their charisma drew crowds from all over Florida to Lakeland, St. Petersburg, Jacksonville and the Tangerine Bowl. They had their detractors who dismissed them as anarchistic noisemakers, but we heard their messages and loved them.

One of the biggest names of the year was Michael Jackson. More than 45,000 people in Kansas City roared as his "Victory" tour started out. The unexpected ticket price of $30.00 a piece startled, yet did not hold back the many fans of the Jacksons. Through this price, the tour expected to gross $50 million. Stopping at only thirteen cities, our Floridian fans thanked the Jacksons for their Gator Bowl visit in Jacksonville (how convenient) in July.

Michael Jackson and the "Victory" tour was the most explosive phenomenon since the Beatles. Yet it did cause some controversy. In Bound Brook, New Jersey, high school officials tried to ban "the glove" in school. The students did not like that so they staged a sit-in, and won the right for a hearing. Eventually they lost.

Having sold over 35 million record copies of "Thriller" worldwide, made it the biggest selling album in record history. Because of this, Michael's personal fortune was estimated as $75 million.

Other concert news in Florida included the visits of well-known artists: Billy Idol, Duran Duran, Clash, Missing Persons, Go Go's, Thompson Twins, Flock of Seagulls, Billy Squire, Ratt, Cars, Wang Chung, Bruce Springsteen, Rush, and Deep Purple.

FADS

ALL THE RAGE

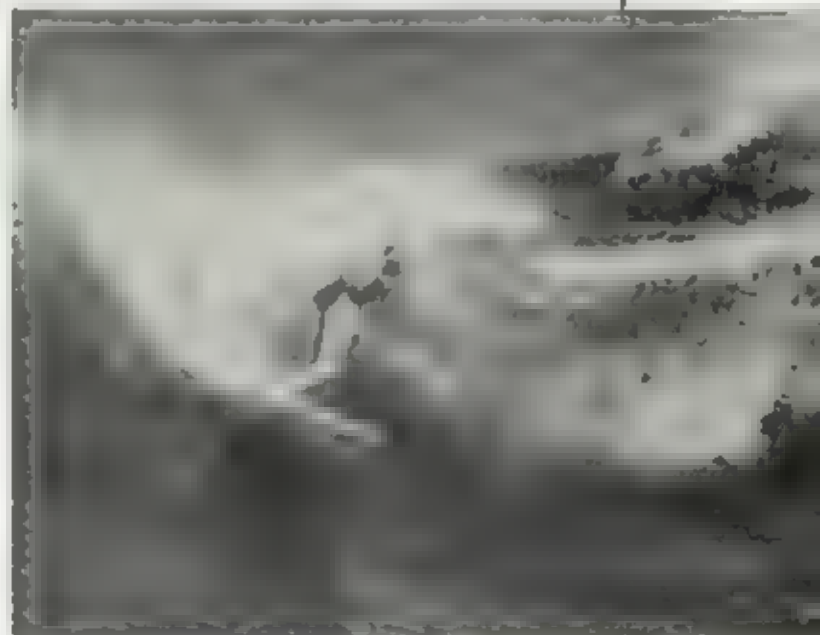

Just as hula hoops caught the attention of much of the world during the fifties, many fads came into being during the eighties. However, there was one main difference. Many of the "fads" of the eighties were actually borrowed from past generations. These renovated fads included skateboarding and surfing. Other fads simply came about as the result of technological innovations. An example of this was the appearance of compact digital disks. Trivia was also a major influence on many lives. With the game of Trivial Pursuit came a "trivia mania." This brought everything from "t" shirts to coffee mugs. Several renditions of the original game also came into being. Other popular things of the year included "nightclubs for kids" such as Electric Avenue, the movie Ghostbusters, the slogan "Where's the Beef?", stickers of all kinds, taco salads, and fluorescent make-up

Ghostbusters was the top movie of 1984. Compact digital discs became popular music buys. Pam Burridge was an example of many women entering the sport of surfing.

MISS D.H.S. DALLS

THE CONTEST

Chip Wilson and Christi Keltner were Mr. and Miss D.H.S. for the 1984-1985 school year. Their duties included being a part of the Homecoming Royalty, having an honorary membership in the D.H.S. Student Council, and representing Deland High School at community functions.

The Miss D.H.S. contest was held on Tuesday, March 6, 1984, in the D.H.S. auditorium. The next day the six finalists competed for the entire student body which then voted for its choice. Christi Keltner was chosen for this title.

"Camelot" served as the theme for Miss D.H.S. which is sponsored by Student Council each year. During the show each contestant was required to perform a talent. Lauri Koshiol danced to "What a Feeling;" Deedra

Jackson sang "A Medley of Love;" Shan Tilton danced to "Let the Music Play;" Charlyn Chen performed a monologue entitled "I Talk Too Much;" Traci Fletcher did an interpretation of "Pink Panther;" Lori McCoy sang "Out Here on My Own;" Melissa Feasel played Handel's "Arm, Arm Ye Brave;" Brenda Vinciulla danced to "Remote Control;" Sheryl Blomquist performed a dance and gymnastics to "99 Red Balloons;" Kim Whalen tap danced to "Dance Ten Look Three" and Christi Keltner sang, danced, and twirled to "Maniac." The six finalists were Deedra Jackson, Lori McCoy, Melissa Feasel, Sheryl Blomquist, Kim Whalen, and Christi Keltner.

"Sharp Dressed Man" served as the theme for the Mr. D.H.S. contest which was held on Thursday, October 25, 1984. During the presentation each contestant was judged on intelligence, number of school and community activities, and talent. After all of the presentations, four finalists were chosen to be voted on by the student body. They were C. J. Fitzgerald, Chip Wilson, Troy Blevins, and Vincent Ortiz. Chip Wilson came out victorious and was crowned Mr. D.H.S. The eight talent presentations included Craig Van Clief singing "Hello," Michael Sean Mayer playing Beethoven's "Für Elise" on the piano, C.J. Fitzgerald performing a pantomime to "A Day at the Circus," Troy Blevins in a singing presentation entitled "Blevins and the Blues," Vincent Ortiz dancing to "Egypt," David Ray giving a speech entitled "You," Chip Wilson doing a stand-up comedy routine, and Richard Baum pantomiming to "Risky Business."

Mr. D.H.S. contestants were Richard Baum, Troy Blevins, Craig Van Clief, C. J. Fitzgerald, Chip Wilson, Sean Mayer, David Ray, and Vincent Ortiz. The Miss D.H.S. finalists were Christi Keltner, Lori McCoy, Melissa Feasel, Kim Whalen, Sheryl Blomquist, and Deedra Jackson. Chip Wilson and Christi Keltner, Mr. and Miss D.H.S., were a part of the Homecoming Royalty.

Keyettes go Krazy, the 1984 Keyette talent show/fundraiser went well as usual. There were eight acts for judging; Robyn Mowry, Sandra Villetti dancing, Deedra Jackson and Tyler Gibson as vocalists, Nicki Drumb on piano, Amanuel Brooks rapping, Chris Bang playing a synthesizer, and Nikki Griggs who danced and sang. The acts were judged according to originality, execution, and talent. During the show, several skits were performed by school clubs. Lunch Crunch at D.H.S., Under the Boardwalk, and Hokey Pokey were all Keyette accomplishments, while "Plight of the Nerds" was performed by Tri-Hi-Y. Other nonjudged acts were Miss D.H.S., Christi Keltner, singing and twirling, and Brewster Blues, a musical group. Between acts and during the evaluation of acts, Chip Wilson Student Council president, entertained the audience with tales from his childhood and impromptu comedy routines. The talent show winners were Sandra Villetti in first place, Nicki Drumb in second place, and Nikki Griggs in third place. The evening was ended as it had started with the Keyettes performing a dance number to Prince's "Let's Go Crazy".

Chip Wilson was the M.C. for the program. The winners were Nikki Griggs in third, Nicki Drumb in second, and Sandra Villetti in first. Allison Willis and Marie Pippio pause for a pre-show picture. The Keyettes take time out for a photo.

SHUTTLE UPDATE

In 1984, the space program had many firsts. In February, during the first flight of the Space Shuttle Challenger that year, Bruce McCandless performed the first untethered space walk in a "man maneuvering unit." Built by Martin Marietta, the "man maneuvering unit" was also used in April to rescue a satellite, the solar maximum. This was the first time that such an operation was performed. The solar maximum satellite, which was launched on Valentine's day 1980, became useless in November of the same year when its second back-up fuse malfunctioned. By using the mmus and the shuttle's mechanical arm, the solar max was brought into the cargo bay, repaired, and returned to orbit at a cost of $50 million. NASA estimated that it would have cost $235 million to replace the entire satellite.

The February mission also ended with a first when the space shuttle landed at Kennedy Space Center in Brevard County. In late August, the shuttle program had another first with the maiden launch of the orbiter Discovery. That mission, which was originally scheduled for the end of June, was postponed first because of computer failure, and then because three of its four engines would not fire. Another first was made by Kathryn Sullivan, who became the first woman to walk in outer space.

Discovery finally began its first mission on August 30, and returned to the Earth at Edwards Air Force Base in early September. This followed an uneventful mission. NASA plans to launch thirteen shuttle missions this year. The yearly number will increase in 1986, with fifteen missions, and in 1987, with twenty-four scheduled missions. NASA is also planning to build a fourth shuttle which will make its maiden launch in 1986, and will be called Atlantis. Reagan announced that a teacher will be taken into outer space in August of 1986. He also proposed that a representative from each be taken. This would seem to suggest that a ride into outer space would be a reward for a job well done. Being that 1984 was an election year, the shuttle became an important issue. Reagan supported it, while Mondale opposed it. Mondale voted against it several times when he was a senator during the early seventies.

DONALD DUCK TURNS 50

The Space Shuttle made its first Florida landing. Donald Duck had his 50th birthday.

A birthday party for a duck?

The world's most famous duck celebrated his 50th birthday with parties and parades at Walt Disney World and Disneyland. The two theme parks had daily parades which featured over two hundred singers, dancers, and musicians. Donald also had a birthday gala in New York's Rockefeller Plaza with his longtime friend, Clarence "Ducky" Nash. Clarence Nash had been the voice behind Donald Duck since 1934. He helped Donald from his first cartoon, "Wise Little Hen," to his present success. Today, Donald is watched by movie fans in 76 countries, and his comic strip is published in over one hundred foreign and domestic newspapers. Many people all over the world have enjoyed Donald's antics, and are looking forward to his next 50 years. Maybe by then he will have married Daisy!

STATUE OF LIBERTY

Over a century ago, France gave the Statue of Liberty to the United States as gesture of friendship. Several years later, an immigration center for those who sought a new life in America was established on Ellis Island. Through the years, as many as seventeen million people have passed under the Statue of Liberty's gaze. Later, the Ellis Island station was no longer needed, so it was closed. In 1965, that receiving station joined the Statue of Liberty as a national monument.

The damage which had been done to the monuments then needed to be repaired. The work was planned to be completed by 1986, the one-hundredth anniversary of the statue's dedication. The workers were to replace the torch, rebuild the right shoulder area, and improve the crown's viewing area. They also planned to replace the iron skeleton and widen the stairway, replacing the handrail. A new balcony was to be added and the elevator in the base was to be repaired. Overall, the entire exterior was to be cleaned and treated, the ventilation improved, and any loose or missing rivets replaced. Finally, the interior and exterior lighting was to be replaced.

PRINCE HARRY

Prince Henry Charles Albert David was born on September 15, 1984. At the time, his mother, Princess Diana of Wales, was 23, his father, Prince Charles, was 35, and his older brother, Prince William, was 2. Harry, as the new prince was to be known, was born into the third position in line for the throne of England. The first two spots were claimed by his father and his brother. At the time of his birth, in St. Mary's Hospital, Harry weighed only six pounds, fourteen ounces. He has been well-loved by the English from the time of his first public appearance.

The Statue of Liberty is in need of repairs. Diana poses with Prince Harry.

HOMECOMING

DURING THE DAY

As in the past, Homecoming was one of the major events of the school year. Sponsored by Student Council, Homecoming 1984 was held on November 16. During the school hours which were cut short for the occasion, an alumni assembly and tea, as well as the annual "Growl" pep rally were held. During the pep rally, the Homecoming Royalty was introduced amidst the noise from three classes competing for the Spirit Flag. The Class of '85 came out victorious in this enthusiastic competition. Following the introduction of the Royalty, came the annual skit competition, during which several clubs and groups vied for the most entertaining act. The Keyettes won the title filled with enthusiasm, many students as well as members of the community lined Woodland Blvd. to watch the annual Homecoming Parade. Participants in the parade included the DHS band and other area school bands, class and club floats, class officers, the Homecoming Royalty, and the alumni riding on flat-bed trucks. The parade Marshall was Sue Atkinson, DHS teacher and Student Council sponsor. Chuck Williams, DHS principal, and his wife Susie along with Kevin and Holly Newnam were the Superfans. The float competition winners were the sophomores in the class competition, the Keyettes in the car-float division, and CHO in the decorated car category.

AFTER HOURS

At the football game that night, De and put the squeeze on Lyman in a 14-7 win. During halftime, the band played and the Homecoming Royalty was introduced. They were Mark Provitola and Traci Fletcher as host and hostess; Lon McCoy, C. J. Fitzgerald, Bridgett Gordon, and Preston Nealy as seniors; Bridgett O'Dare, Sean Crockett, Deidre Dukes, and Tony Hill as juniors; and Kirsten Hagstrom, Glen Garrick, Darlene Marion, and Eddie Lane as sophomores. Following the game, was a dance held in the school gym. Second Nature, a band in which DHS teachers Mr. Proctor, Mr. Snow, and Mr. O'Neill play, performed for the students and their dates.

CAMPAIGN '84

In early 1984, there were eight candidates running for the Democratic nomination. Walter Mondale, John Glen, Jesse Jackson, Alan Cranston, George McGovern, Gary Hart, Ernest Hollings, and Reubin Askew were all vying against each other and Ronald Reagan. Of the eight, only Walter Mondale, Jesse Jackson, and Gary Hart remained in the running until the convention. At the convention, Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro were selected to represent the Democrats.

Walter Mondale supported a freeze on nuclear weapons, and a treaty banning the testing of new ones. He also wanted to establish treaties with the Soviets banning chemical and biological warfare. Mondale claimed that he could cut the $200 billion deficit. He also planned to trim military spending, and reduce annual health care. In South America, Mondale wanted to aid El Salvador and stop the support of the rebels fighting in Nicaragua. Much of Mondale's support came from labor unions and similar groups.

Ronald Reagan, the President of the United States, was running for re-election. He wanted more nuclear missiles and other systems. His plans included continuing the production of MX missiles, and the further developing of the B-1 bomber. Reagan's main goal was to "fight fire with fire" against the Soviet Union. Many voters felt that foreign relations was Reagan's major downfall. The President also claimed that he would have to raise taxes in order to decrease the deficit. This was said to be another of Reagan's flaws.

During the fall, debates were held between Reagan and Mondale, and Bush and Ferraro. This appeared to be a Democratic stronghold. However, Reagan came out victorious in the end. The election was a landslide, with Reagan winning all of the states except Minnesota.

Ronald Reagan came out victorious in the election, winning all of the states except Minnesota. Geraldine Ferraro, the first woman to run for vice president, was Mondale's running mate. George Bush, the vice president, was reinstated for a second term.

MINING NICARAGUA

In 1984, the United States first denied and then was forced to admit that one of its covert forces, the CIA, had placed mines in the Harbors of Nicaragua. The International Court of Justice then ruled that such actions were unwarranted, and violated international law. Also at this time, David Ortega Saavedra was sworn in as the first elected prime minister of this civil war-torn country. This subject later became a major campaign issue.

Jesse Jackson and Walter Mondale worked together after the convention. Gary Hart came from behind to become a Democratic front runner. Jesse Jackson delivered a stirring speech at the Democratic convention. Walter Mondale was the Democratic presidential hopeful.

HEART TRANSPLANTS

In recent history, heart transplants have become quite common. However, cross-species transplants have remained rare, with a total of five having been done. One of these was performed in October of 1984. Baby Fae as she was known, was the first infant recipient of a non-human heart. She lived for twenty days after receiving the heart from a seven-month-old female baboon. This operation was performed at the Loma Linda University Medical Center in California.

The child was given a baboon heart because no human hearts were available for transplant. This statement stirred up much controversy, with many believing that it was untrue. Baby Fae's own heart had hypoplastic left heart syndrome. This was a fatal disease which left no hope for recovery. Because of the time element, doctors decided to go through with the operation using a baboon heart.

The second artificial heart transplant was also completed during 1984. It was done by Dr. William DeVries, who performed the first artificial heart implant on Barney Clark in 1982. The first operation was done in Salt Lake City, Utah, while the second was done in Kentucky. The switch came as the result of DeVries' transfer to the Humana hospital chain. A man by the name of Schroeder was chosen to be the second recipient.

MEDICINE

BURN VICTIMS

The October issue of the Discover magazine, states that the approximately 15,000 people in the United States who are severely burned each year may be saved by a new technique developed at the Shriners Burns Institute in Boston. Doctors can now grow skin grafts from the patients' own skin cells. First, doctors remove pieces of unburned skin. The doctors then mince the skin fragments and mix in enzymes that separate them into millions of undivided cells. After growth stimulants are added, the cells multiply and grow together. Twenty days later the test tube grown skin reaches the size of playing cards, and is ready to be placed on the burned areas. Unlike cadaver skin or artificial skin, the test tube skin will not be rejected by the patient's body, since it was cultured from the patient's own cells.

Doctors do not know about the long-term effectiveness of cultured skin because cultured skin has only been used on a few patients. The skin has only the outer layer of skin and it does not contain any sweat glands. Doctors are uncertain whether or not an inner layer of skin will grow naturally, but despite that, cultured skin is certainly a medical breakthrough.

William Schroeder became the second man to have an artificial heart. Dr. Gallico developed test tube skin. Baby Fae lived for 20 days with a baboon heart.

SUPERBOWL XIX

On January 20, 1985, Superbowl XIX was played between the San Francisco Forty-Niners and the Miami Dolphins. The Forty-Niners defeated New York and Chicago to get to the Superbowl. The Dolphins routed Seattle and Pittsburgh in their playoff games. The Superbowl was billed as a confrontation between the Dolphin quarterback Dan Marino and the San Francisco defense. In the game, San Francisco totally dominated Dan Marino and his two midget receivers Mark Duper and Mark Clayton. Forty-Niner quarterback Joe Montana was brilliant, throwing for three touchdown passes and winning the Most Valuable Player award. The final score was San Francisco 38, Miami 16.

SPORTS

WORLD SERIES

The 1984 World Series was played between the San Diego Padres and the Detroit Tigers. The Tigers were victorious, 4 games to 2. San Diego's major problem was their lack of starting pitching. The Tigers were led by shortstop Alan Trammell and Centerfielder Kirk Gibson. Detroit's victory capped off a golden season highlighted by their 17-0 start, a new world record. The World Series was played between October 9-16.

Joe Montana, the pride of San Francisco, won the Superbowl MVP Award. The Detroit Tigers won the World Series 4 games to 2. Dan Marino did not measure up to the pre-game publicity he received.

ETHIOPIAN FAMINE

Many problems arose during the year. Perhaps one of the most highlighted of the year was that of the Ethiopian famine. This starving took place in the sub-Sahara regions of Africa. Although this famine was brought upon by many years of drought and poor planting seasons, it seemed to come to a head in 1984. Many groups, as well as individuals gave their support to help the situation. One of these was Band-Aid, a British conglomeration of many superstars such as Phil Collins, Boy George, and members of Duran Duran and the Police. They put together a song entitled "Do They Know It's Christmas?" All of the money which was made from the sale of the record went to help the Ethiopian cause. However, many people were skeptical of Band-Aid, saying that more could have been contributed out of the band members' personal fortunes. Solving such problems as the Ethiopian famine was not the hindsight of a self-proclaimed expert of today, but is the foresight of the enlightened leaders planning for tomorrow.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

According to the Daytona Beach News Journal, "Volusia County is the biggest problem area for drunk driving." The Journal believed that much of the problem was due to young people. The highest number of arrests occurred within the 26 and under age group. To combat these problems Volusia County police were suggesting four laws: the impounding of drunk drivers' vehicles, holding the last establishment where the person drank partly responsible, assessing an extra court charge for persons pleading innocent to drunk driving charges and making the third offense an automatic felony.

Alcohol is involved in 50% of all fatal accidents in the United States. In the 15-24 age group, 25% of all teenagers are drunk driving offenders. Seventeen percent of these are in-

PROBLEMS

A starving Ethiopian child has begun to show signs of malnutrition involved in and/or cause fatal accidents. Because of the increased fright over teenage alcohol abuse, the drinking age was raised to 21. This law will go into effect in 1986, or Florida will lose federal highway funding. This was ruled by President Reagan.

As a result of her work against drunk driving, Mary Wiley was named Floridian of the Year. She started her crusade against drunk driving after her 20 year old daughter was killed by a drunk driver. Wiley then started the first Florida chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD). Since then, she has been working to raise the drinking age and create stiffer laws against drunken driving.

MISSING CHILDREN

The kidnapping and murder of six year old Adam Walsh in 1981 brought national attention to the tragedy of missing children. Many missing children information centers, such as the Adam Walsh Child Resource Center in Winter Park, have been set up locally to help remedy the pressing dilemma.

The center in Winter Park was a clearing house for information. Over four thousand children are currently registered as missing in Florida alone. Due largely to the center's efforts, parents also have the right to have the FBI enter information about their missing child into the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) computer. NCIC checks are now available to law enforcement agencies all over the country. This increases the chances that a child taken out of the area will be found.

Center volunteers teach elementary school pupils about safety with strangers. Today's abductors are extremely advanced in their techniques so children have to be prepared for the approaches they use. The center also encourages the recording of fingerprints to positively identify a child.

The Deland Police Department set up a program for fingerprinting area children. This work was done at no charge by The Deland Police Explorers. The fingerprint card, which is kept by the child's parents, is a preventive safety measure in case the child is ever lost.

Mary Wiley, Floridian of the year, was a founder of the MADD program. Adam Walsh's picture has become a national symbol for the crusade against the tragedy of missing children.

ACID RAIN

Acid rain was a problem which affected many people. As the problem increased, the utility companies who were causing it did not make a great effort to help control it. If these companies had chosen to put in their own systems for controlling sulfur dioxide, the main factor causing acid rain, they would have saved about 1.8 billion dollars, part of which came out of the taxpayer's pocket. Instead, many plants were forced to install expensive governmental systems for controlling the problem.

Acid rain affected trees and aquatic life. At DHS, these and other effects of acid rain were discussed during an acid rain conference. During the six hour program, many guest speakers spoke and a group of students asked a panel of experts about the aspects of acid rain which concerned them. The sponsors of this project were Mr. Dessert, Mrs. Collidge, and Mr. Sponsler. The conference was held on December 20 and 21.

HE'S NOT JUST A FIGUREHEAD

Mr. Charles Williams has just finished his second year at the helm of DeLand High School.

His duties included the responsibilities for the personnel and the high school budget. Anything dealing with the budget was handled by the principal himself. All other responsibilities were delegated to the four assistant principals.

Last year, Mr. Williams' main goal was to establish a good rapport with the faculty. He believes it takes at least a year for the faculty to break in a new principal and is fairly confident that this goal has been accomplished.

For this year, his goals included improving communication lines between parents and the school. He set to accomplish this task through newsletters and Judgement Day. Judgement Day was to inform students of their progress through the course of each nine weeks. Another goal was that of grounds maintenance. Additional help was hired to accomplish this task and Mr. Williams believes he had begun to accomplish this goal. He also said he desired to maintain and multi-purpose room first, then work down through the D-wing. Mr. Williams believed attractive surroundings make for better learning. His third goal for the year was to dramatically increase SSAT passing scores. Additional personnel were hired to review sophomores on basic math skills such as fractions, percentages, etc.

Mr. Williams graduated from Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana, with a chemistry degree. He received his Master's Degree in Lafayette University. Later, at Stetson University, he earned his Administration Certificate. For five years, in Marion, Indiana, he taught chemistry; later, he taught here at DHS for three years. At Deltona Junior High, he was assistant principal for four years, and was principal at Seville Elementary for two years, Coronado Beach Elementary for one and-a-half years, Enterprise Elementary for two-and-a-half years, and Deltona Lakes Elementary for a year.

AGRICULTURE

The Agricultural Department classes at DeLand High School consisted of approximately 250 students studied livestock production, nursery operations, wildlife and game management, and applied principles in agriculture. The livestock production class took the care of about thirty-five head of cattle and about twenty swine. They entered both in the Volusia County Fair in early November. The nursery operations class put in half an acre of leather leaf, and tried to revive eight acres of orange trees, which were damaged during winter freezes. The wildlife and game management class managed 440 acres of forest land that was rented, leased and owned by the Agricultural Department.

LANGUAGE ARTS

The Language Arts department has made great strides this past year. Average S.A.T. scores for students in D.H.S. rose in 1984, as did the scores on the S.S.A.T. II. In all English classes, the teachers were placing emphasis on the skills necessary to heighten the students' test scores. Added this year to the curriculum was a gifted English class for tenth graders. For eleventh and twelfth graders there were advanced placement (AP) classes available. Other courses open to the students included Honors, Regular, and Skills.

For those students who take AP English, there is an Advanced Placement exam which is given at the end of their senior year. If the student does well on this exam, it could help with admission to colleges, scholarships, and exemption from freshman English.

MATHEMATICS

The Math department experienced many changes before starting off the school year. One major change was the addition of the pre-algebra course. Together with Algebra I, Pre-Algebra was meant to eliminate the Algebra IA and IB courses. Another new course that was added to the Math Department was College Review. This consisted of a Math course for those college-bound students who had completed Algebra I and Geometry and needed a review before entering higher mathematics. Other new additions to the Department in 1984 included the General Math II, Consumer Math, and Business Math courses. The Business Math course was previously taught at DHS, but in 1984, it became applicable as a math credit

AN AVID TENNIS PLAYER

One of the more avid tennis players at DHS was Mr. Dennis McGarvey. He began playing tennis ten years ago and claimed it to be "a hobby and a conditioner." He said he never made tennis a professional venture or a coaching career as it would take up time and become too serious. Mr. Breeze and Mr. Straube often played matches with him, which was how Mr. McGarvey got interested in this sport. He also enjoys many other activities, such as playing cards and annual fishing trips with his friends. A sports enthusiast, Mr. McGarvey roots for a variety of teams. The Boston Celtics were his preferred team in basketball, while, remaining loyal to Florida, his favorites of football were the Miami Dolphins and the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Baseball adds a bit of variety, for Mr. McGarvey is loyal to the Chicago Cubs, the Minnesota Twins, the Pittsburgh Pirates, and the Atlanta Braves.

Mr. McGarvey also enjoyed all kinds of music yet claims he prefers country/western overall.

Mr. McGarvey was one of three driver education teachers here at DHS. Originally from Pennsylvania, he moved to Melbourne, Florida and later after graduating from high school, had a brief stay in Georgia, where he attended college at Georgia Southern.

Mr. McGarvey earned degrees in Health, Driver's Ed., and P.E. Mr. McGarvey then taught at Brunswick Junior High School for a number of years. He returned to Florida and moved to Deland, where he acquired his teaching position. He has now been at Deland High for 18 years.

During the 70's, Mr. McGarvey was the head basketball coach, track coach, and, for one year, junior varsity football coach. During this time, he was both driver's ed and health chairman at DHS. Mr. McGarvey earned degrees in health, driver's education, and physical education.

Mr. McGarvey walks briskly towards the driving range.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Education, by definition, is the instruction in the development and care of the body ranging from simple calisthenics to training in hygiene, gymnastics, and the performance and management of athletic games. DHS used these simple guidelines to plan its athletic curriculum, which was expanded this year to include personal fitness and life management. Due to the RAISE Bill, it became a more integral part of the student schedules. The DHS physical education department was the largest in Volusia County and the campus was often used as a demonstrative site for local instructors. Another aspect of this department was the Bulldog Football program, which trained the varsity athletes in weight and muscle development before practice

PUBLICATIONS

The publications, headed by Mrs Bellini, consisted of the Crowler, the school newspaper, the Athenian, the yearbook, the literary magazine, Genesis, and the honorary association for high school journalists called Quill and Scroll

The students raised the $35,000, the cost of producing the yearbook, by selling ads to local and out-of-town businesses and patrons. The literary magazine and newspaper staffs also sold column space to pay for the publication

These students devoted their time, talents, and creativity to produce lasting memories for the student body. Their efforts are often overlooked, however, as most see only the end results and do not consider the months of preparation involved.

SCIENCE

Deland High School students enjoyed a wide variety of courses in the Science Department—everything from General Science to Physics. Fifteen teachers, coupled with the department chairman William Stone, made DHS the largest Science Department in the county. Several different levels of science such as Basic, Regular, and Advanced were made to accommodate the 1600 students enrolled in the various science classes. According to Mr. Sponsler, the upper levels of science and chemistry are designed to prepare students for their freshman year of college. Since the raise bill which required three science credits between grades 9-12, DHS, therefore, has received 30 new microscopes and 20 new stereoscopes.

TEACHER ON THE SIDE

Mr. William Sharpe's stomping ground was the DHS art room during school hours; however, on special occasions and Sunday mornings, he would have been found in St. Barnabas Episcopal Church. Mr. Sharpe had been an ordained deacon for about ten years, and although the work was time-consuming and hard, it was very rewarding. The main role he played was helping the sick. He prayed for them and if they were unable to accept communion, he would take communion to the invalid. Also, Mr. Sharpe could have been found preaching at the church and counseling those who needed it.

SOCIAL STUDIES

With a full time staff of 15 members, the Social Studies Department was headed by Stanley Whitted. "The elective (Social Studies) has been hurt by the RAISE bill this year," Mr Whitted stated, in reference to the fact that many students didn't take extra Social Studies courses because of the more stringent graduation requirements

A new course offered this year was Advanced Placement American History. After successfully completing the year, students had the option of taking the A.P. test which could grant college credit. There were available for both American History and World History four levels: introductory, regular, honors, and gifted. Also required for graduation was the completion of Senior Social Studies, divided into one semester of Consumer Economics and one of Comparative Political Systems.

On March 22nd and 23rd, DHS students were able to participate in the sixth annual Social Studies Fair. Students could have entered projects in many categories including extemporaneous essay and team debate. Many teachers required students in their classes to enter a project in the fair, or offered extra credit points for participants.

Prime Minister Heath, who is the predecessor to the current Prime Minister of England, Margaret Thatcher, spoke at a civic forum on October 24th. On the 25th of October, Social Studies students from DeLand High went to a student forum where they were able to talk with and direct questions to the Prime Minister. Members of the United Nations Club were also given an opportunity to attend the presentation.

NEW AUDIO-VISUAL SPECIALIST

Mr. Peter Straube, as of this year, was the new Audio-Visual Specialist. With his new position, Mr. Straube inherited many responsibilities including the scheduling of televisions to the classrooms, broadcasting programs to the classes which request them, and properly taking care of any A.V. materials teachers may need, such as films, filmstrips, etc. To aid him with his duties, Mr. Straube relied on student aids each period.

Mr. Straube also prepared to do student-made films to help teachers supplement their teaching activities. All the equipment would be set up in the A.V. room. This was to give as many options as possible for students and teachers to supplement learning activities such as debates, class simulations, plays, etc.

The position of Audio-Visual Specialist was newly created this year. Before, librarians rotated each period from all printed materials to Audio-Visual. Mr. Straube says that with one person controlling all Audio-Visual materials, there is more continuity; therefore, making the process of loaning materials out to the classrooms faster.

Mr. Straube diligently prepares the next day's schedule.

MR. WHITTED MUSICIAN

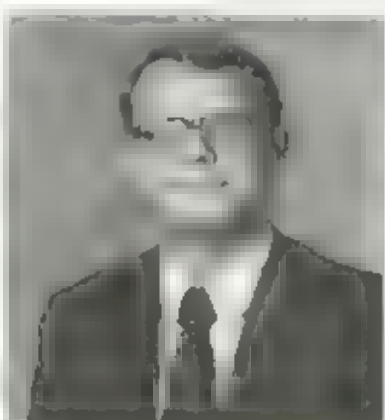

Mr. Stanley Whitted has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in history, and is presently working on a Masters of Arts Degree in Administration. Mr. Whitted has been an instructor for ten years, and is the chairman for the social studies department. When asked why he enjoys teaching, Mr. Whitted replied, "I teach because I like young people, being around them, and because I care." "Uncle Stanley" as many students affectionately call him, enjoys poetry, was a sponsor of the model U.N., and is interested in someday having a local political career. Mr. Whitted is also a semi-professional musician. He played the keyboard and sang for four years while traveling in Europe, Israel, and throughout the United States. He has been a minister of music at several churches, and directed, through 1976, a large interdenominational youth group choir. Presently he is the

Athenian

The ATHENIAN, the DHS yearbook, was produced by a dedicated, hard-working staff of 33 students. Under the supervision of Barbara Bellini, and the editorship of Karen Marsh and Sindy Massey, the class sold ads, laid out pages, and cropped pictures to complete one of the finest yearbooks in the area. Perseverance, frustration, tears, laughter, and bonding friendships were all elements that emanated from D115, infamously known as the "yearbook room."

To accumulate a collection of ideas and needed knowledge, the staff delved into numerous magazines to find creative layout plans. A selected group of Seniors traveled to North Carolina to tour the publishing company, and attend the seminar known as "annual report."

The ATHENIAN provided the necessary link between DHS students and the community while preserving treasurable high school memories filled with fun, friends, and studies.

The group also produced their own show entitled Steam Heat in the fall of 1984. The group itself consisted of 15 girls under the directorship of Mrs. Neunam. The troupe put forth a lot of hard work and dedication to make it the best year possible.

Beta Club

The Beta Club was a semi-service, honorary organization. It was made up of approximately 150 juniors and seniors. Inductions were held in May. To obtain membership, a person had to have a grade point average of at least 3.5.

Beta Club participated in several activities this year. They helped Student Council prepare the gym for the Homecoming dance and initiated a "keep the school clean" program. One of the largest activities of the year was the State Beta Club convention held in Orlando, in which C.J. Fitzgerald, captured the state presidency. That made the third year in succession that a person from DHS held the position.

With the help of Mrs. Gleason, the sponsor, the Beta Club continues to move ahead in academics and service.

The students take care of 18 3, 4, and 5 year olds, 4 days a week. Duties such as: pre-planning 1 week ahead prior to their teaching, operate a child care facility, and teach arts and crafts, was all the responsibility of each student. This student was put in charge and the other students assist.

Peer Counseling

For the third year in a row, Peer Counseling provided a helping hand to teachers and students. The nine members listen to students confidentially, and refer them to guidance counselors. These dedicated members run errands, file, and loop up schedules for the guidance counselors and secretaries. During Career Day the help of the Peer Counselors was indispensable.

Auditorium Operations

We are lucky this year to have a new light and audio system in our auditorium, operated by DHS Auditorium Operations. Many community groups as well as school groups use our auditorium and these students were responsible for providing professional technical assistance. Under the expert guidance of Ms. Brothers this club was truly an asset to DHS.

Flag Corps

In its second year at DHS, the flag corp expanded its membership to include more than 10 girls. Each member auditioned and was chosen to perform under the direction of Amy George. To be selected as captain, a girl had to compose and perform her own routine. The squad delighted audiences at football game half-times.

A new addition to the marching band, the flag corp participated in several parades and competitions throughout the school year. As always, they were a bright addition to the pep rallies, held in the gymnasium before all home games.

The French Club, known lovingly to its members as "la creme de la creme," had another active and exciting year. Through candy sales and similar fund raisers, the group collected money for the Homecoming float and other yearly events. As always, the club participated in the annual Foreign Language Banquet, providing specialties from France

In the early part of 1985, those members especially talented in drama, spirt, or speaking in French represented DHS in the Volusia County Foreign Language Festival. Under the leadership of Gerda Mullen, loyal members were allowed to attend the French Convention and a late year trip to a French restaurant in Daytona

The German Club, which is sponsored by Mrs. Mullen, is open to those students having a German class or those who have an interest in Germany.

The club has approximately 20 members and the officers are Amy Cashulette, president, Debbie Licke, vice-president; Maresi Berry, treasurer, John Whitney, secretary; Cynthia Moore, sergeant at arms; and William McDonald, chaplain.

The functions are to promote interest in German language and culture in the school and community. It also raises funds to help students take part in state functions or to help finance a trip to Germany. The club is always looking for new members and activities.

Genesis

Genesis, a collective literary magazine of poems, short stories, essays, artwork, and photography, is sponsored by Mrs. Bellini. Students along with those on the staff contribute to the magazine. Papers that are submitted to the magazine are graded on a scale of 1 to 10 from those submissions the best are selected to be printed in the publication. The staff which is headed by Kim Layton, editor, also earned the money to produce the magazine, edited, organized the contents, submitted the copy to be printed and finally distributed it among students

Growler

While the Athenian informs students of what has happened in the past year, the Growler publishes a document periodically to let the students know what is happening in their school. The Growler is completed by a hard working group of students

The Growler is not only for students but supported by students as well. The Growler is open to all D H S. students as a class and who are willing to layout the paper at Deland Sun News.

This year's 4th period class constructs the Growler in many steps. These steps include selling ads, writing articles, laying the paper out, editing and the distribution. Making sure these steps all run smoothly is the job of the Growler's editor

Interact

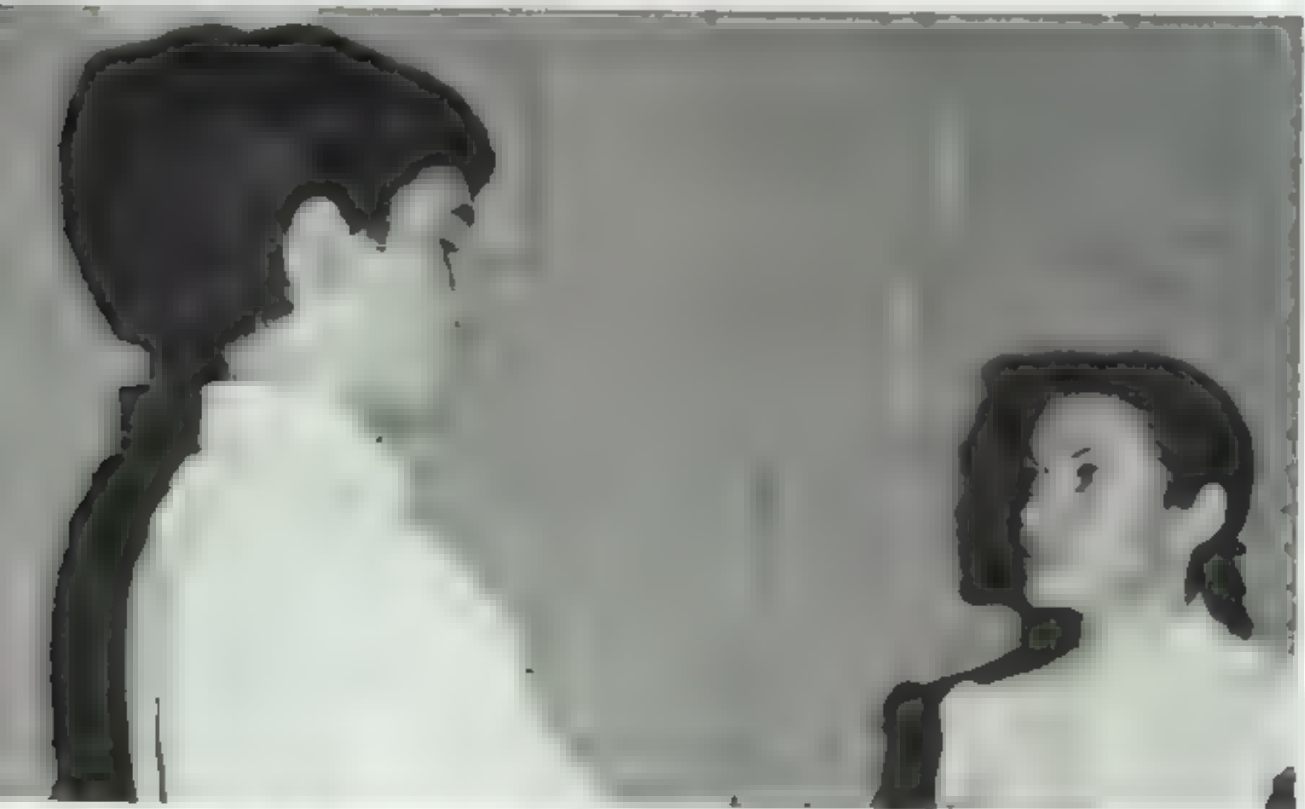

Interact was a club with the purpose of providing an opportunity for young people to work together in a world fellowship dedicated to service and international understanding. In 1985, Mr. Johnson completed his eighth year of sponsoring Interact. The club's major service project in '85 was raising money for the starving in Ethiopia. Interact was sponsored by the Rotary Club and their motto remains "service above self"

Inter-Club Council

Inter-club Council had a successful second year following its reorganization at DHS. Led by Mr. Williams, ICC was made up of a representative from every club and group in the school. Attendance at the meetings was necessary for the club to retain its school affiliation. ICC was very effective at DHS as it provided a means with which the administration of DHS could convey its concerns to the student body. In the 1984-85 year, the Inter-club Council raised money for the curtains in the auditorium, ran the electronic word/message sign, and was in charge of the pouring of the sidewalks around the portables.

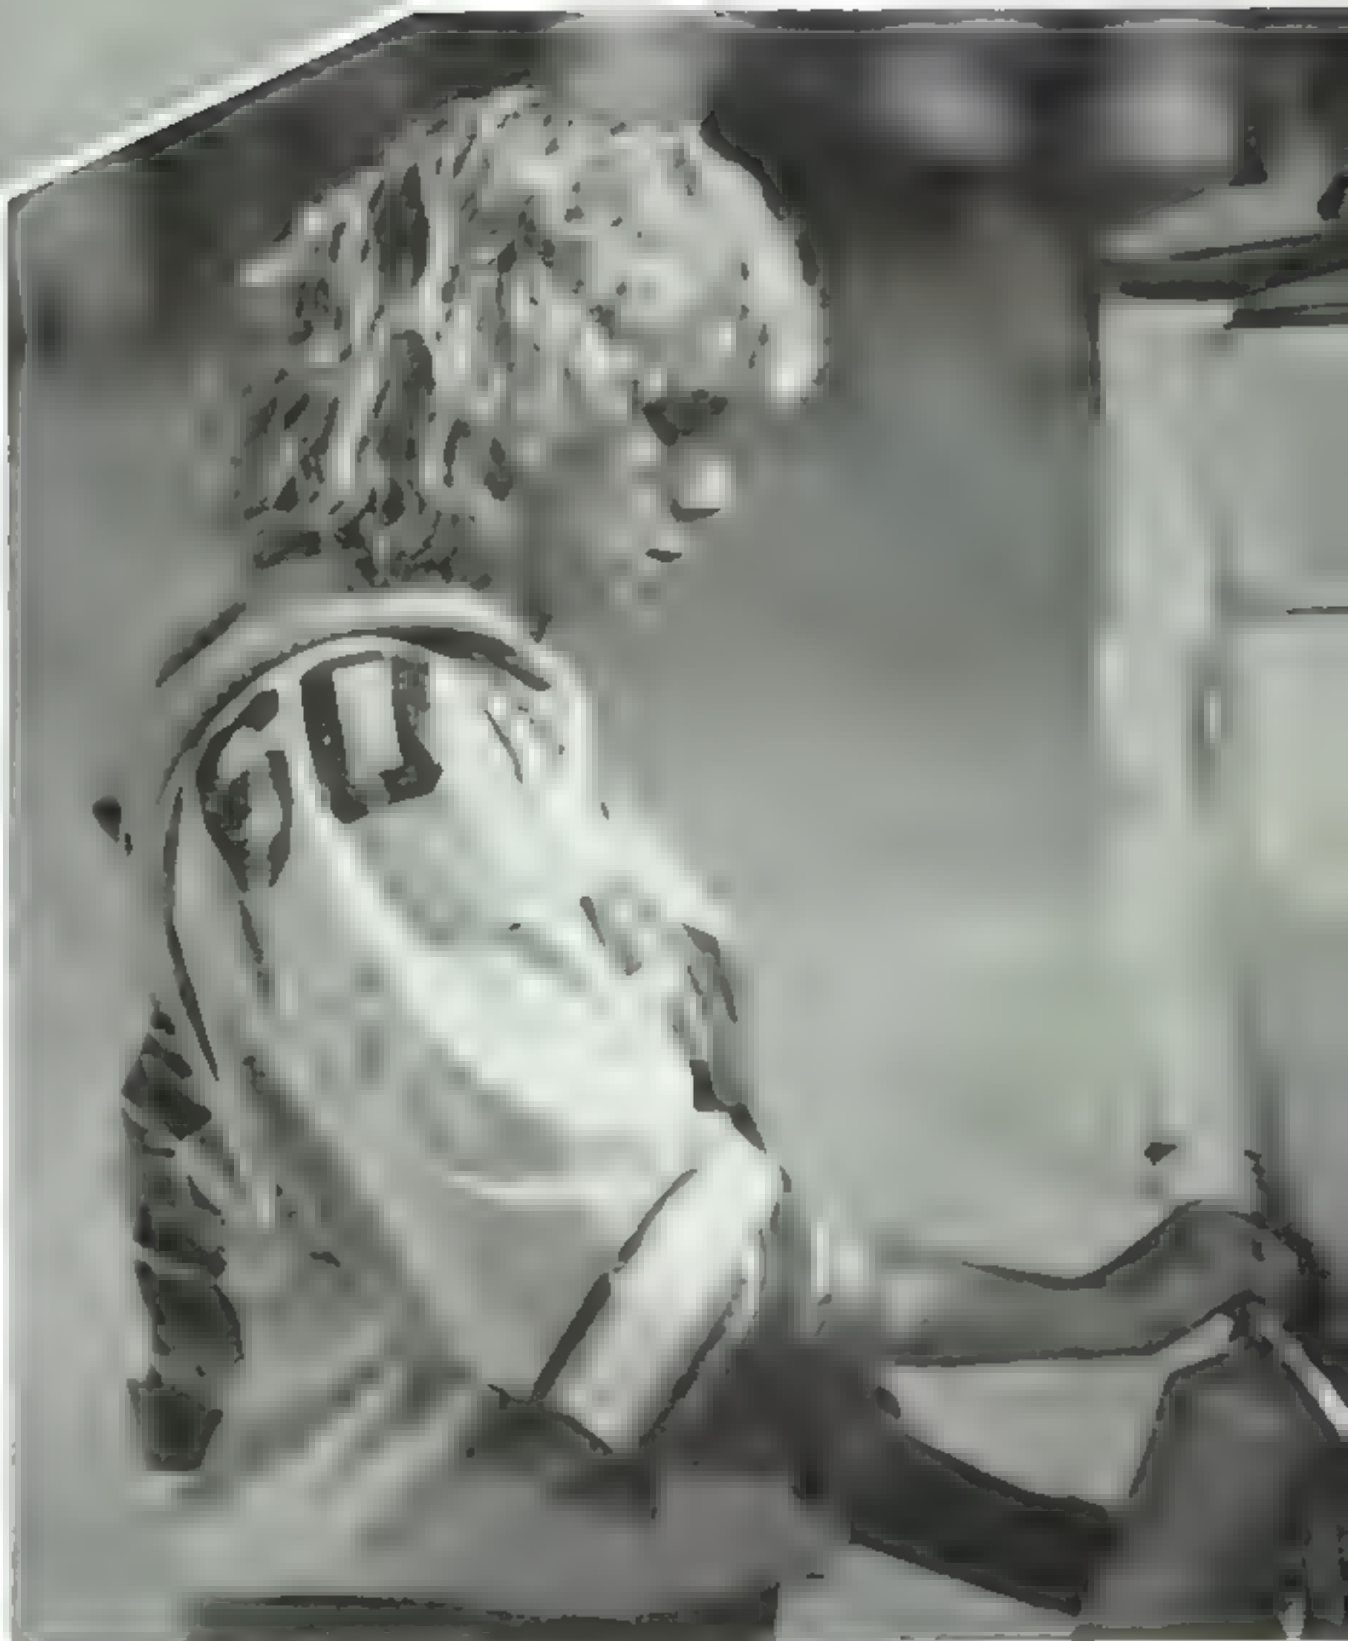

Kathy Corr and Diane Hart go over the representative sign-in sheets. Tim Glomb and Mrs. Atkinson discuss plans for the electronic word/message sign. Inter-club Council was composed of a representative from each school organization and was headed up by Mr. Williams.

Junioresses

The Junioresses of 1984-1985 were once again involved in many activities in and outside of D.H.S. With sponsors like Mrs. Alexander and Miss Cherubini, the club has sponsored the annual Powder Puff Football Game and also the Sexy Legs Contest. The Junioresses visit the Duval Home as one of their philanthropic projects to help aid the community. Key Club

Key Club has made great strides in community involvement and school services this year. Members strived to raise funds to support the new international theme, "Manhours for Mankind!" The Key Club sweetheart for 1984-1985 was Lisa Rollins, who was chosen for her help and support. The faculty advisor was Chris Stevenson again this year. Mr. Stevenson has had an unending devotion towards Key Club by making sure the club stays within the school's rules and the Key Club International Regulations. Keyettes

The Keyettes of 1984-85 went a little "Krazy" during their annual Keyette talent show titled "Keyettes go Krazy." Homecoming, being the next event, was also a successful undertaking for the club. The Keyettes not only won the car-float division for the third consecutive time, but they also won the skit during the homecoming growl.

The year was brought to an end with the annual Keyette-Key Club banquet, and the mother-daughter banquet. The Keyettes would like to extend their sincere thanks to Jorge Izquierdo, the Keyette Kasanova, and Mrs. Bambrick, a super sponsor who devoted a great deal of her time keeping the Keyettes number one!

Latin Club

The Latin Club, sponsored by Mrs. Disney, had 68 members this year. There were two consuls—Julia Cunningham and Glenn Reid—and also a treasurer and a secretary. They had one big candy sale early in the year to sponsor trips attended at Latin forums at different schools. The Latin club also celebrated the Saturnalia Festival, the Ideas of March Festival, and a trip to Epcot. The Junior Classical League of Florida sponsors the Latin Club.

Majorettes

The Majorettes twirled through tryouts, a one week camp, and a two week band camp in order to be ready for the 84-85 year. They applied their new routines at football games, Homecoming, and the Christmas parade. The captains were Valene Bellamy and Tootie Jakes, the co-captain was Ginger Brock. The students have put in at least two hours daily to be the proficient group of majorettes who helped win first place Auxiliary trophy at the Seabreeze Invitational Contest. N.H.S.

NHS the National Honor Society, consisted of approximately forty up-standing students at D.H.S. It was one of the largest chapters in the state. Academically they ranked among the elite of their peers and also carried on a distinct rapport with their teachers

Inductions were held in both the spring and in the fall to enhance the organization. Requirements include being in the top ten percent of their class as well as having recommendations from a council of selected teachers

The club was directed under the leadership of advisor Sharon Maulden and president Karen Marsh. Through this club, academically superior students were rewarded for putting continual effort into school activities and studies. Such rewards include having a gold seal on the high school diploma and wearing a distinct yellow cord on the graduation robe

Quill & Scroll

DeLand High School has its own chapter of Quill and Scroll, an International Honorary Society for high school journalists.

Under the direction of advisor Barbara Bellini and president Karen Marsh, the organization sought to honor the outstanding DHS journalists. Members were chosen from the Crowler newspaper staff, the Genesis, literary magazine, and the Athenian yearbook staff. Chapter members were registered and were able to compete for foundation scholarships.

Scholastic Team

The Scholastic Team was Deland High School's answer to the college bowl. Under the direction of Linda Blair, the members competed with other schools in the county and state. Although recognized as a sport by technical rules, the group conducted itself as a club under the leadership of Tim Washburn. The team members competed against opponent schools. The highlight of the year is the High School Bowl.

Spanish Club

The DeLand High School Spanish Club under the direction of Señora Monahan, participated in many activities this year. These included a trip to St. Augustine, and a car float in the Homecoming Parade. This social club was open to all students enrolled in a Spanish class, and interested in Spanish language and culture. Mrs. Monahan said that she was proud of her classes and their interest in Spanish activities.

Spanish Honorary

Spanish Honorary was a group of Spanish students who have maintained an A average through the first nine weeks of their third year of Spanish. This group of Spanish students and their sponsor, Mrs. Hughes, held a candy sale to finance a trip to the Florida State Spanish Conference held at the Marriot Hotel in Orlando. Spanish Honorary also attended and participated in the Foreign Language Festival. In the spring of 1985 this elite group of Spanish students inducted 18 new members. One of the main goals of Spanish Honorary this year was to better understand Spanish language and culture.

Student Council

Student Council, the governing body and voice of the pupils in the school, has been actively involved in the community for years. Ideas begin with the DHS students themselves, are discussed by council members at weekly meetings, and then are challenged into positive action. Under the sponsorship of Sue Atkinson and Katy Lockney, the group has been volunteering services and donating time and effort to better our school.

A project developed by Student Council this year was the purchase of an electronic word/message sign to inform all students of future activities and important dates. Located in the library, all pupils are exposed to current events and a form of entertainment while studying. Another effort to assist the community was the adoption of a manatee. They definitely have proved an interest for the well-being of our surroundings, in school and out.

Tri-Hi-Y

Tri-Hi-Y was a different service club in that it put academics foremost on its priority list. The club was made up of a small group of intellectually-inclined young women and men who demonstrated outstanding character and service.

Tri-Hi-Y not only served its affiliation, the YMCA, but they also served the school and community. The members made a monthly trip to the Duvall Home to visit with new-found friends. Once every few months, the YMCA asked for help and Tri-Hi-Y came to the rescue. This year the members created the haunted locker rooms at Halloween, for which they received a commending plaque.

Tri-Hi-Y funded its activities with its main sale, the Valentines day carnation sale, supplemented by candy sales throughout the year.

Model U.N.

Model U.N. was an organization designed to widen the political world picture of its members. The Model U.N. Club of DHS met weekly during lunch. At these meetings members learned of new United Nations policies and chose the country they would represent at the county-wide conference. Besides attending the monthly county conferences DHS model U.N. attended several conferences in Daytona, a conference at Stetson University, and the state conference in Tampa. The Model U.N. was sponsored by Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Whitted.

Clubs and Groups were an integral part in the lives of the students at D.H.S. We have found that our most memorable experiences and lasting friendships occur in the times we've spent working for and representing the club or group to which we have belonged. Whether a car wash or candy sale, students established comradene in their common efforts. At the heart of D.H.S. remains clubs and groups!

Sports

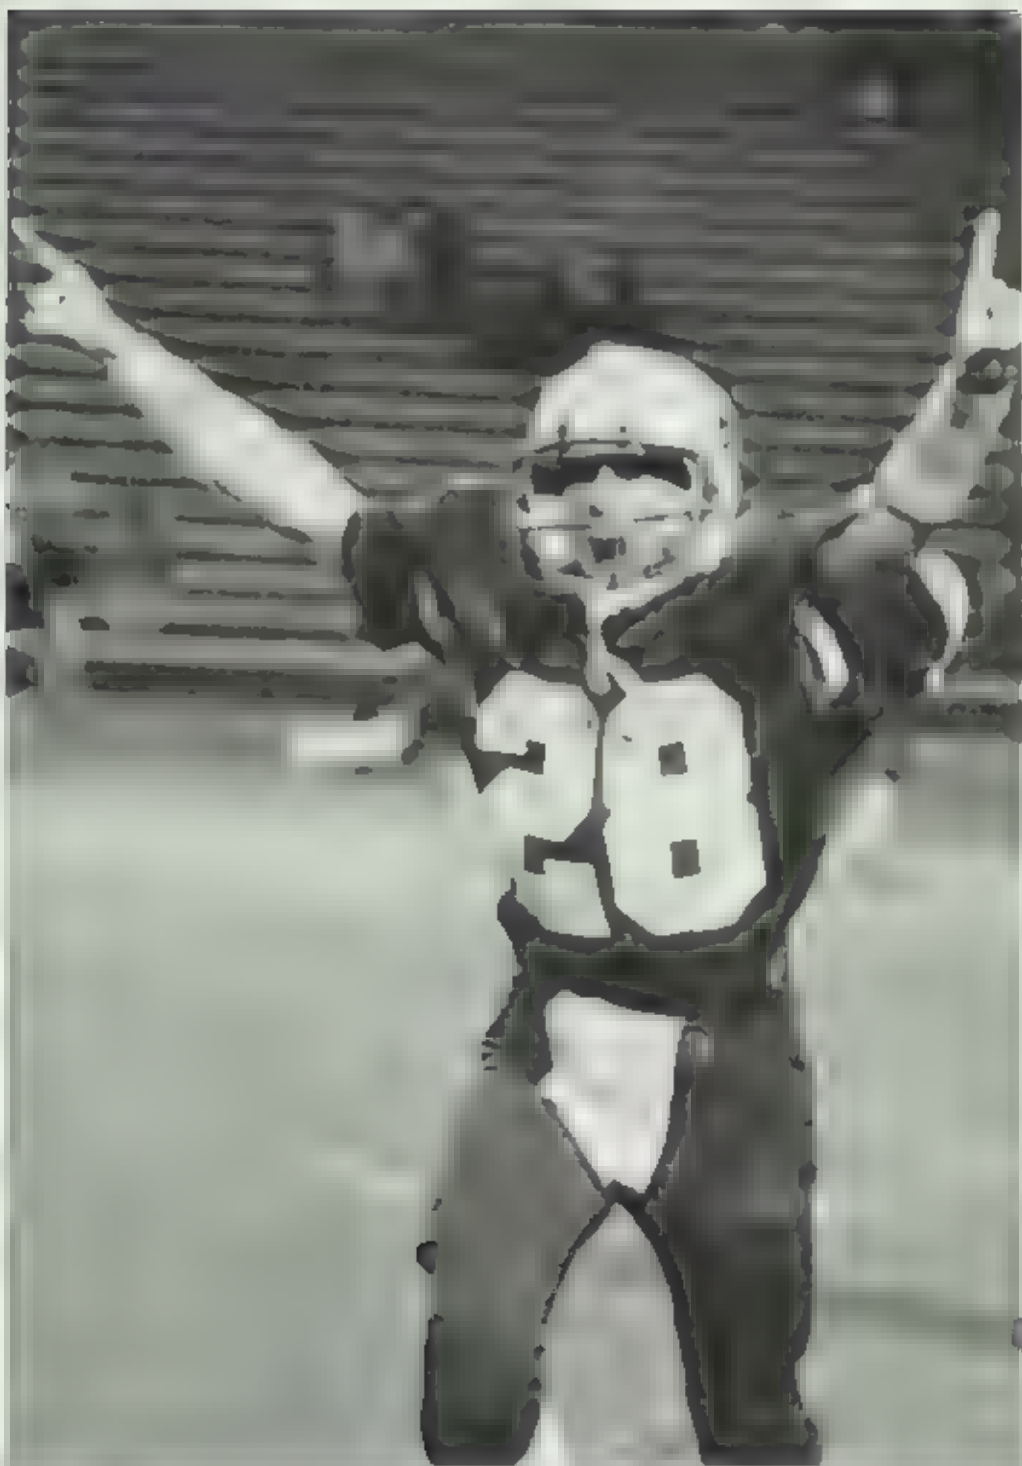

Varsity Football

It took much hard work, effort, and perseverance to take the Deland High School Varsity Football team from an 0-2 record to their final record of 7-3. With 25 of the 44 football players being seniors, Coach Hiss felt that next year would probably be spent as a rebuilding experience; however, he said that he would like to keep DeLand High School with a consistent record of at least 6 wins for many seasons to come. Goals were also set to have the team represent DeLand in a most beneficial way, as well as keeping the team unity.

Varsity Boys Basketball

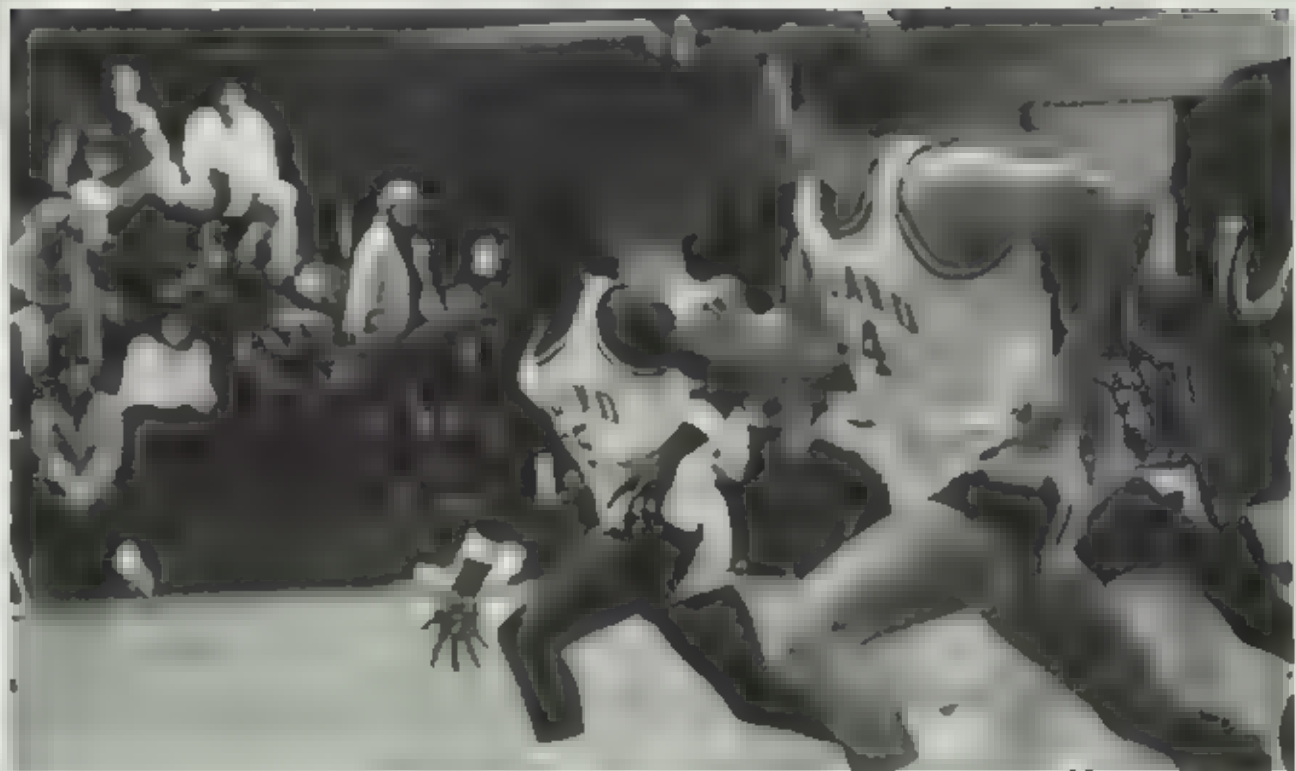

The 1984-85 Varsity Basketball team and their coach, John Zeoli, showed without a doubt, just how far they could go in the category of excellence this year. The superior direction of Zeoli, the experience of co-captains, Kevin Weickel and Randy Anderson, and the altogether effort made by the whole team, helped boost them to a prominent position in Five Star Conference.

Besides the incredible talent of the Bulldogs, their fans were a key factor in their victories at home and away, and the crazy "Bahama Boys" made every game more interesting than the last. They were a big help in proving that the spirit we have at DHS outshines all others.

Varsity G. Basketball

The 84-85 season was an exciting one for the Girls' Varsity Basketball team. Coach Streitberger topped off his twenty-seventh year of coaching by coaching for the first time at DHS.

DeLand's girls played in two tournaments during the 84-85 season. They lost one tournament that was put on by Brandon High at Tampa and once again won the Big 4 Tournament in Daytona. Their most memorable game of the regular season was against Seabreeze. With DeLand behind by two points, and no time on the clock, Bridgette Gordon shot and tied the game. DeLand won with ease in overtime.

J.V. Football

The 1984-1985 J.V. Football Team completed their season with a 4-3 record, coached by Mr. Bill Streightburger, Mr. Tyrone Tinsley, and Mr. Bruce Tramont. The Bullpups beat Spruce Creek twice, while topping Lake Brantley, New Smyrna Beach once. Seabreeze surpassed the Bullpups twice and Sanford dominated the team in one game. The athletes practiced Monday, Tuesday and Fridays with a game on either Wednesday or Thursday nights. "The fellows have come a long way, they really stuck it out," replied Coach Streightburger, "the team improved greatly from the first game to the last, no one dropped out. Everyone on the team stayed together throughout the duration and decided to give it all they had."

J.V. Boys Basketball

Newcomer, Coach Kevin Smith was quite pleased by the progress of the junior varsity basketball squad this year. According to him, each individual had improved his dedication and willingness to work and learn. The new group of young men fought long and hard to equal the record of the varsity team, but fell slightly short.

The boys decided to adhere to the concept of having a good attitude. They would unite to help the team as a whole. It was not a team for individuals, but one that was genuinely concerned with representing DHS.

J.V.

Girls Basketball

The Girl's Junior Varsity Basketball team began this year "with a lot of raw talent and potential." Since there was no Junior Varsity team last year the girls had to start fresh this year. The team learned much and steadily improved throughout their season. They developed very important techniques to increase their skills for future years on the Varsity squad. Their coach, Mrs. Buchanan remarked "The girls have come together as a team should, and, of course, I'm very proud of each of them." The team was undefeated at mid-season.

Cross Country

The DeLand High School Cross Country Team, under the direction of Coach John Boyles, had a very gratifying season in the 1984-85 school year. Any of the team members would say that though the workouts were grueling and the competition tough, they all found it extremely rewarding.

The team raised the funds necessary to travel to meets all over the county, and two runners, Craig Dobson and Tony Goodnough, received honorable mentions on the All County team.

Swimming/Diving

The 1984-85 swim season was a fun, competitive, and rewarding one for the DeLand Senior High swimming and diving team. Practicing everyday after school, they were coached and supported by Coach Tony Tussing and Coach Margaret Bambrick. The swim team had a successful year that began with a Sanford meet where the girls team won every event for the first time.

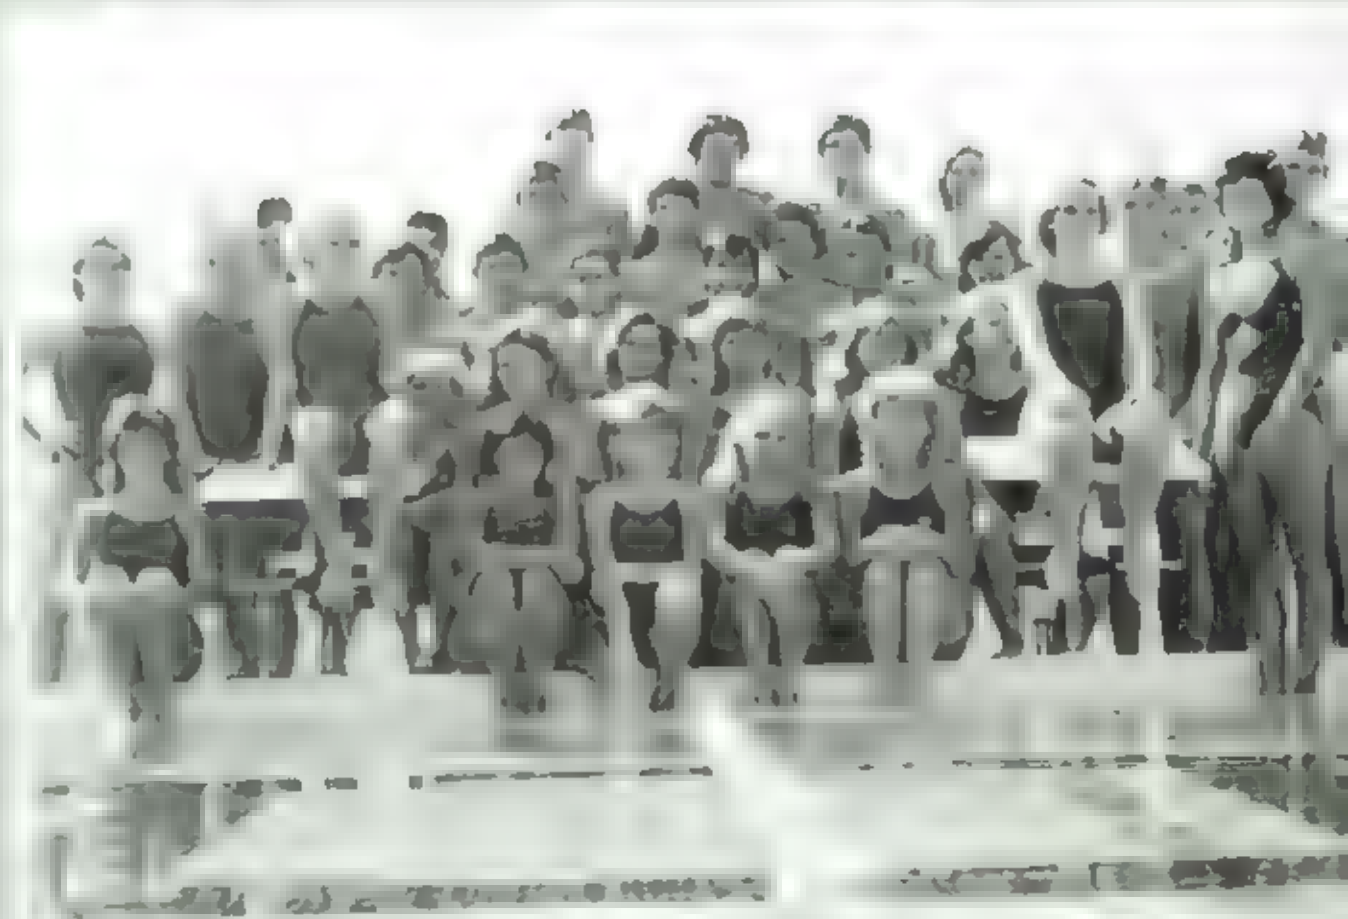

They recruited many new, young swimmers for the future, yet, the coaches stated the senior swimmers would be hard to replace because of their ambition and dedication. It was a promising year for the younger divers. They improved a great deal.

Trish Tucker and Mike Neuzil were chosen as Most Valuable. At the swimmers' annual banquet, plaques for most improved and for leadership were presented. Trish Tucker, a departing senior, was especially honored, for she held 24 of a possible 32 DeLand High School swimming records. These athletes competed to the best of their ability and produced a swim team DHS was proud of.

Volleyball

"Our team is red hot" was the motto of the Volleyball team, which must have been true since they ended the season at 18-5. They captured the District Championship once again this year. Bridgette Gordon and Robyn Swartz made the All County first team and also became our players of the year.

This was Mrs. Buchanan's first year coaching at DeLand High School and she stated that she really enjoyed it. "These girls are true winners." She also said that she would miss the seniors but was looking forward to a great season next year.

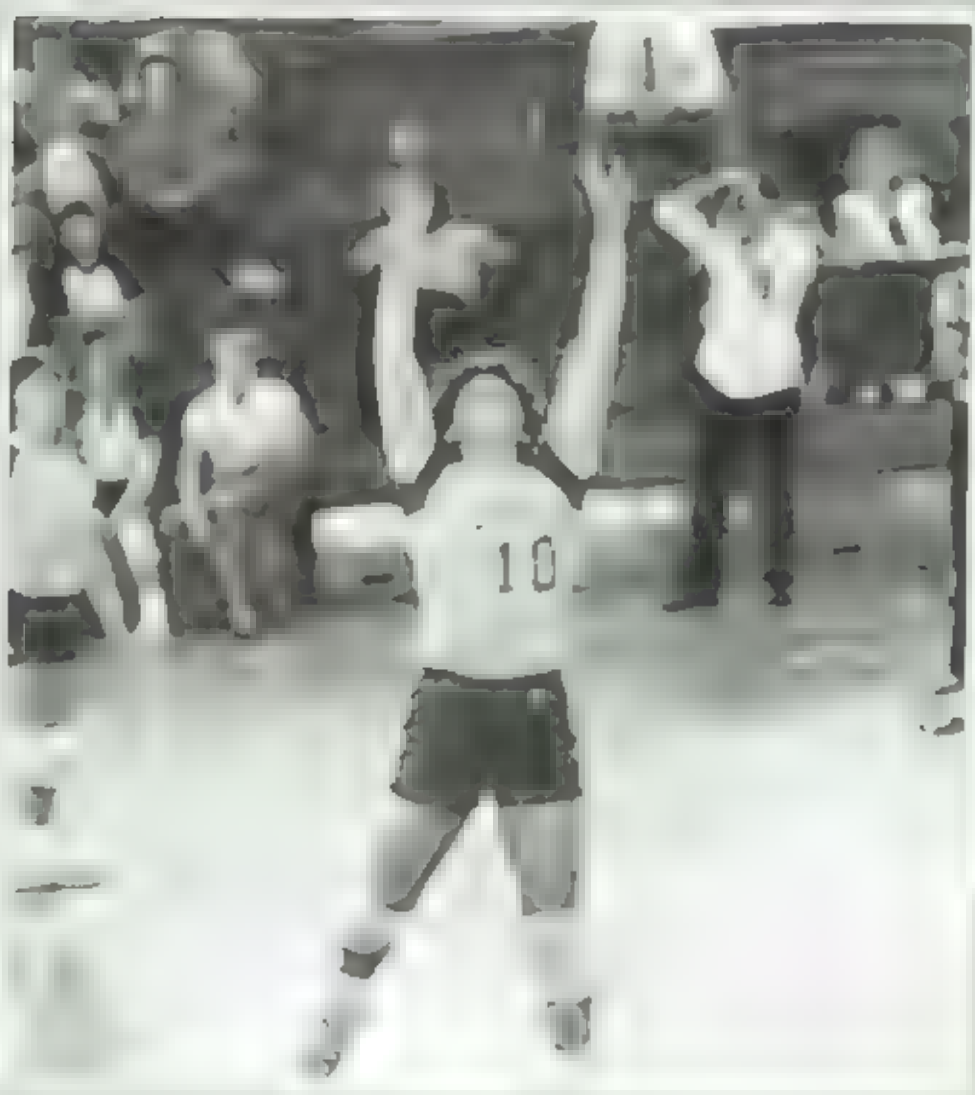

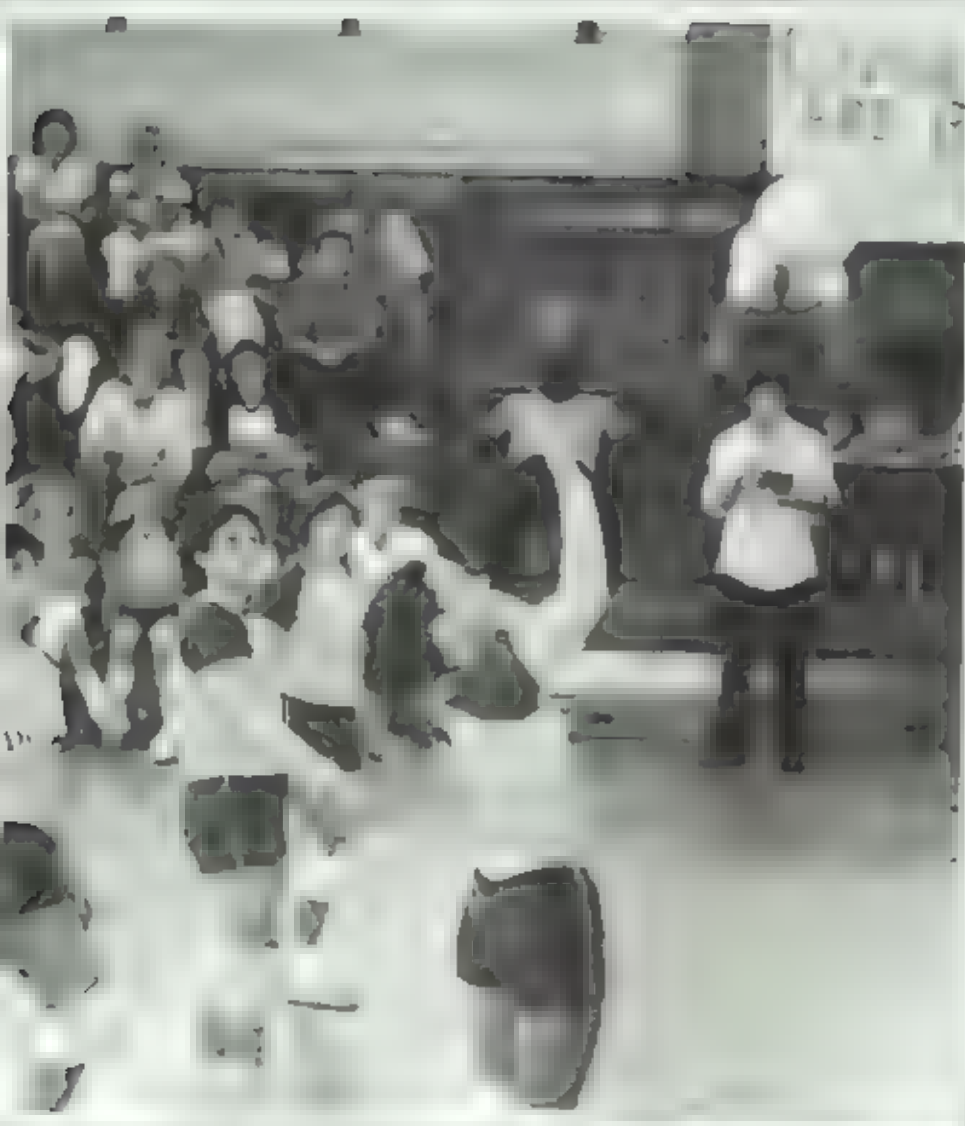

Coach Buchanan gives her players a pre-game pep talk. Hoping for assistance, Robyn Swartz knocks the ball to the back of the court. Varsity Soccer

The 1984-85 soccer team was coached by Gil Dominguez and Coach Wilson as they have been in years past. Although the season started out with a loss against Lake Mary at the jamboree, the team increased their momentum and won the Burger King tournament at Christmas. Many players returned from last year's team but a few additions were made. Co-captains this year were Mike O'Quinn and Eddie Porcelli, two of the returning players. Overall, the team played a good season, which ended with a record of 6-4.

JV Soccer

The 1984-85 J.V. Bullpups had a fantastic season and brought great pride to DHS. They were coached by Don Morgan for the fourth year and he was assisted by David Frost. The captains this year were Brian Roney and Steve Diaz. The J.V. Soccer team sharpened their skills by practicing five days a week. The J.V. team also did their part to help DHS by cheering on the Varsity team following the J.V. games.

Soccerettes

The DeLand Bulldog Soccerettes were a group of energetic girls who kept the game running smoothly by retrieving soccer balls kicked out of bounds. They also sent in substitutes and kept score. The 1984-85 Soccerettes contributed great spirit to the soccer games, cheering the mighty Bulldogs on to victory. In addition, the Soccerettes helped raise money by selling programs at the soccer games. The programs were printed by the Bulldog Soccer Booster Club. The Soccerettes would like to extend their thanks to Mrs. Gleason, Coaches Dominguez and Wilson, and the Booster Club for supporting Bulldog soccer.

Wrestling

The wrestling team was expected to emerge victorious at least 10 of the 14 times they were to compete. The coaches are Chris Stevenson and Steve Davenport.

This season's work began after school, planning strategic moves and practicing them on each other. Finally, their efforts achieved success as they battled opposing teams at their meets.

The most outstanding seniors were John Brown, Chris Criche, and Jeff Riley. Outstanding juniors included Bob Halle, Shane Black, and John LaComb.

Coach Stevenson expected this year's team to be in the top 4 in their conference and district. He also hopes to qualify a minimum of 5 wrestlers for the State Tournament.

Wrestlerettes

Once again the wrestlerettes cheered on the wrestling team for a victorious season. Not only did they clean the wrestling area after each match, they also kept score and statistics. Working together, the wrestlerettes provided encouragement and support for their players. In between matches, the girls brought juice and other necessities to the wrestlers.

Track

The girls' track season ran from December until June. The girls worked 5 days a week, practicing 2 to 3 hours. Besides running the girls also lifted weights and swam. There were a total of 18 meets that the girls participated in all over the state of Florida.

The boys' track team, under the leadership of Coach Smith, participated in a total of 13 meets. The boys practiced every day for an hour and a half. The season lasted from February 26 to May 11. Events included in track are the 440 relay, medley relay, and the mile relay. The field events are the long jump, high jump, triple jump, shot-put, discus, and the pole vault. Coach Smith said that this year's track strength is sprints.

Varsity Baseball

In the 1984-85 baseball season, the varsity Bulldogs proved to themselves, their coaches, and their fans, that they are the best at what they do. Under the superb direction of head coach Jim Joiner, and assistant coach Tyrone Tinsley, the Dogs entered the season with skill and winning attitudes. "Experience", agreed the players, "was a key factor." Returning seniors, such as Scott Anderson and Alfrank Hillmeyer, gave the Bulldogs that boost they needed to be winners.

JV Baseball

The J.V. baseball team was coached by Kevin Newnam, concluding his third year coaching J.V. baseball at D.H.S. This season was believed to be equal to Coach Newnam's last two seasons, both of which had finished 12-4

The baseball team conducted many successful fund-raisers. They had two candy sales, a T-shirt sale, and a 100-inning baseball marathon. Also, the booster club contributed by conducting several other fund-raisers.

During practices, the boys were instructed in the fundamentals of the game, preparing them for the varsity team. They learned the basic philosophies and concepts of baseball as well as the many mental aspects of the game

Coach Newnam commented, "The DeLand area is basically known as a strong baseball area and the program at DeLand High School maintains that tradition."

Weightlifting

Once again Coach Bradford led his DHS weightlifting team to an outstanding 1984-1985 season. Bradford, who has been coaching since 1962, returned from a six year retirement to inspire the Bulldogs. The secret behind the team's success is said to be their ability to work together, consistently, as a team. They practiced and competed with a strong support from their fellow litters. "Every litter is outstanding to me," said Bradford.

Top rival, Spruce Creek, though tough, did not intimidate the confident and well trained Bulldogs in preparation for another state championship. The players remained constantly psyched up to continue their long running winning streak, using this enthusiasm to intimidate opponents and hold up team pride.

Tennis

The 1984-85 tennis team worked hard to achieve their many goals this year. Coaches Bill Underhill and Mince Duncan worked with the members both on and off the court to improve the team's skills. Practices started in January, every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 3:00 to 5:00. Mrs. Duncan held practices at the Brandywine Racquet Club and drilled the girls on backhands, forehands, volleys, serves, and overheads for the first hour and challenge matches the second hour. Mr. Underhill drilled the boys in the same manner however, held practices at DeLand Country Club.

This being their returning year, Mrs. Duncan and Mr. Underhill knew how to rebuild the teams. "The hardest part of being a coach is having to choose who plays," said Mrs. Duncan as Mr. Underhill agreed. Being there were a lot of fresh new players there was a lot of work to be done, and goals to strive for. These goals were achieved, due to the experience of the coaches, and the teams pulled off a winning season.

Golf

The girls' golf team, coached by Mr. Duncan, consisted of 8 players and had Lisa Judson as team captain. The returning players were Lisa Judson, Angie Gnm, Bndget O'Dare, Rebecca Reaves, and Pam Kealhofer. The new players were Ruth Fisher, Mecia Zulinski, and Heather Zeoli. The goal for this year's team was to win the conference and for each golfer to improve her average score by five strokes.

The boys' golf team, coached by Mr. Parissi, included 7 players and the captains were Lew Junk and Todd Comeens. The returning players were Lew Junk, Todd Comeens, and Robert Beller. The new players were Chris Cartin, Tom Beller, Roger Hendrickson, Marty Summers and Derek Paduck. The goal for this year's team was to qualify for the districts.

Softball

Seventeen students strong and with 5 remaining seniors, the DHS softball team took on this years county league. Compared to the 30-game season last year they had a slightly lighter schedule. They had 21 games scheduled, one of which was a tournament arranged by DHS. Outstanding players this year were Robin Swartz, Sonia Viletti, Debbie Underwood, and Bridget Gordon

Head coach was Ralph Curry, and Patrick Nealis came back for his second year as assistant coach. Coach Nealis says that one of the bad things about the late scheduling of softball is that many players on the team are involved in other sports. This means that they have problems with being able to come to practice. He said that he was very pleased with this year's result and that they had a strong team of which 12 may be back next year

JV Cheerleading

Practice for the 1984-85 Junior Varsity Cheerleading Team began during the summer of 1984, as the JV Cheerleaders took part in the "Dynamic Cheerleading Camp" at Stetson University, winning first overall place in the JV division. The JV Cheerleaders strove and practiced hard for a good season, which is just what they received. Mrs. Radino, the instructor, guided them on the path to the fantastic shows that the JV Cheerleaders put on at pep rallies, JV football games, and JV basketball games. Overall it was quite a memorable year.

Varsity Cheerleading

The 1984-85 Varsity Cheerleading squad started their spirited season with cheerleading camp at Stetson University. They managed to fill DeLand football games and basketball games with pep and cheer. Yelling through their second year of "Bulldoggia," the cheerleaders went through many a rainy football game and other tedious weather conditions. The cheerleaders managed to prove that they could smile through the defeats as well as the victories, boost moral at the games, and show their pride and spirit in DHS. All accomplishments could not have been possible without the dedication of Hollie Newnam, the sponsor.

YL younglife

Young Life was a non-denominational Christian organization whose purpose was to introduce adolescents to Jesus Christ and his relevance to life today. It strove to communicate these concepts in simple, understandable terms and through meaningful relationships. Young Life was an international organization which spans over 300 communities in North America and 13 foreign countries.

The Young Life club of DeLand High School began last year and grew tremendously this year. They averaged about 70 kids at each meeting with over 300 kids being involved at one time or another. This year they took large groups of kids to camps in Florida and North Carolina. Everyone was welcome to Young Life at any time, so come on out and join us.

Young Life leaders Jodi Siciliano, Tom Pipkin, and Andy Stone in the "Uncle Al" skit.

Young Life club always included enthusiastic singing.

The Joy of Achievement . . .

'It is not the critic who counts, nor the man who points out how the strong may stumble, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust, sweat and blood; who strives valiantly, who errors and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievement; and who, at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat'

The advanced crew, first row: l to r Gary Chewning, Jimmy Jones, and Devin Lewis. On hood: Randy Martin and Warren Padgett. On roof: Cliff Asay and Bill Kless.

Once again a student involved construction company exists at DHS. Some of their projects include: building a greenhouse at DeLand Jr. High, putting in sidewalks and construction dugouts for our own DHS, and doing several other community projects.

Bulldog Construction has been hurt by the Raise Bill in the way that more students are trying to achieve mandatory courses which pulled away some of the interested people from the class.

Yet Bulldog Construction Company is still appreciated by the community and school.

As time goes on, the high school years will seem but "one brief shining moment." Experiences from this institution will mold the philosophies and characters of those who walked its halls. All the laughter and the tears will become just memories.

Rich Moriarty, Lori McCoy, and Robert Beller participate in the Senior Class Homecoming skit. Seniors drive out in style with their controversial Homecoming float. Scott Anderson champs down his food in record time. Friendships were an important part of DHS life.

'85 Bids Goodbye

It has been our intention to capture these priceless times within the covers of this book; to present an in depth focus of the times we've had but once to share. In the years to come, we hope you will look back, reflect, and be happy.

DHS Seniors get a "lift" to school. Braving the cafeteria food, this DHSer wonders, "What was that mystery meal?" John Brown looks frustrated at a senior Powder Puff practice. Traci Fletcher and Chip Wilson ham it up at Homecoming.

Treasuring the Times

I am thankful for the times I've known here, for the friendships I have shared, for the knowledge I have gained. But with prospects of the future, I gladly welcome a new phase of life into focus
